Dear Rebecca,

We hope you are familiar with Questioning Origins, our interactive DVD for KS3 RE. We were delighted with the positive feedback we have had from teachers, and that this was short listed for the BETTS 2010 award.

We have now released our KS2 resource, Primary Questions. This introduces pupils to Christian, Hindu, Islamic and Secular understanding of origins and invites them to investigate their own sense of wonder.

Could you help us let teachers in your area know about this new and exciting resource?

Packed with interactive whiteboard games, video clips, lesson plans and PDFs, Primary Questions has all the material needed for 6 lessons:

6 sets of ready prepared lesson plans that meet all the requirements set out by Ofsted, which together include

- 2 animations of Hindu origin stories
- 2 video interviews – scientists with religious worldviews
- 7 PowerPoint presentations
- 4 interactive learning tools
- 24 PDF handout and worksheets

Primary Questions allows you to:

- meet the demands of the Key Stage 2 curriculum
- engage all pupils with multi-media resources
- capture pupils imagination
- see real views of 'ORIGINS' from real people
- deliver cross curricular learning that includes English, Maths, Science, ICT, Art and Learning outside the classroom.

For a limited period this resource is available at a special price of £33.95.

Visit www.thewonderproject.co.uk to see a sample of the resources.

Visit www.thewonderproject.co.uk/feedback to view the great feedback we have been getting from excited teachers.
